Dear Dr. Hockett:

In 1980 the Golden Jubilee International Congress on Essential Fatty Acids and Prostaglandins was held in Minneapolis to celebrate 50 years since the discovery of the essential fatty acids and their biologically active metabolites. The congress and its proceedings published in Volume 20 of Progress in Lipid Research have been extremely successful in bringing together research and researchers in the two fields. After five years have passed, many in these fields believe it is time to have a repeat of that occasion to bring together again the workers in these two rapidly developing areas.

Dr. Michael Crawford of London has undertaken the organization of the conference, and I have volunteered to help in the search for funds necessary to make the conference successful.

I am turning to you because of your known interest in matters to be included in the conference program, asking for support in two ways. We would like a contribution proportional to your company's stature in the field, and we would like your company to send scientists who can contribute to the program and its discussions.

To indicate the nature of the program, I enclose a copy of the first announcement which describes the conference in general, and a copy of the preliminary program. Please respond to me concerning your company's participation. Checks should be made out to Congress Secretariat, Zoological Society of London, and sent to me for transmission to Dr. Crawford. If you have any questions or desire additional information, please write me or telephone me at 507/433-8804.

Sincerely,
